

EXERCISE II—Sentence Completion

Complete the sentence in a way that shows you understand the meaning of the italicized vocabulary word.

1. Paul was acquitted of the crime, but the general public still believed...
2. My bawdy uncle really didn't fit in at the...
3. As the fallen disco ball struck the floor, a myriad of...
4. Derek was so frugal that he refused to...
5. To sneak the missile data out of the compound, the clandestine operator...
6. The barrister feared his client's associates after...
7. The latent saboteur waited for the signal to...
8. The swarm of pernicious locusts caused the farmer to...
9. No one thought that it was too extreme to chastise Gary for...
10. The crowd's adulation for Monique revealed her...
11. When you finish using the culinary utensils, please...
12. Some people laugh at Ken, but others find his jocose manner to be...
13. Feel free to deprecate my idea now, but not when we're in front of...
14. The inert Jose lay on the couch after an exhausting day of...
15. To circumvent the broken power line, the electric company...

EXERCISE II—Sentence Completion

Complete the sentence in a way that shows you understand the meaning of the italicized vocabulary word.

1. Paul was acquitted of the crime, but the general public still believed...
2. My bawdy uncle really didn't fit in at the...
3. As the fallen disco ball struck the floor, a myriad of...
4. Derek was so frugal that he refused to...
5. To sneak the missile data out of the compound, the clandestine operator...
6. The barrister feared his client's associates after...
7. The latent saboteur waited for the signal to...
8. The swarm of pernicious locusts caused the farmer to...
9. No one thought that it was too extreme to chastise Gary for...
10. The crowd's adulation for Monique revealed her...
11. When you finish using the culinary utensils, please...
12. Some people laugh at Ken, but others find his jocose manner to be...
13. Feel free to deprecate my idea now, but not when we're in front of...
14. The inert Jose lay on the couch after an exhausting day of...
15. To circumvent the broken power line, the electric company...